What's New in the Facebook?

Facebook enables you to block the access to a web site or URL for an amount of time. To activate Facebook, just download it, double click to install Facebook on your computer and then select 'New Facebook Entry' from the drop down menu. Use Facebook to prevent you from accidentally viewing a web site you don't want to see, as long as Facebook is running. Facebook simply doesn't allow you to visit the web site you've selected, just the same as you would if you tried to open the web page manually in your web browser. Facebook is particularly useful when you are working on a project that requires continuous attention to what is happening on the web. This way, Facebook prevents you from getting distracted by unwanted web sites. Requirements: Facebook can be used with any web browser. Facebook can be downloaded as an executable file that does not require installation. Facebook requires the latest version of Windows operating system. What's new in Facebook? New (beta) features: Facebook runs from Windows Task Manager and its icon can be placed on the desktop. New filters: It is now possible to select which websites can be visited using Facebook. It's possible to select whether to block a website for 2 minutes, 10 minutes, 15 minutes, 30 minutes, 1 hour, 2 hours, 4 hours, 8 hours, 12 hours, 24 hours, or until the computer is restarted. Changing the time setting for Facebook does not update the time of the blocked website. It is possible to run Facebook with a time setting of the past or future. Added new filters: 'Instant search' - when you type something into the search bar of a website, Facebook will search the internet for the information you are looking for, and then it will open the website where the information was found. 'Address bar' - Facebook can be set to open the webpage when you press the 'Enter' key. 'Auto-launch' - you can specify whether Facebook will automatically open every web page that you have selected. 'Last 10 seconds' - you can specify when the 10 seconds are to be set to the exact second. 'Search in URL' - you can specify the keyword to be searched in the URL. Added a 'Close' button to the Facebook dialog. It is now possible to stop Facebook from running. Pricing: One-time Purchase: $9.95 Annual Subscription: $19.95 Examples:
