System Requirements For Kerio Workspace:

One of the most difficult parts of the Witcher's Witcher is the level of detail you'll need to have your graphics card capably handle this game's various settings, or else you're going to need some help from your friends. You'll need a reasonably powerful GPU if you want to enjoy the game at its best, but fortunately, the minimum recommended specs are fairly reasonable. Most games today are capable of running on 1080p monitors at 30fps, and an entry-level GTX 960 will do the trick. The last two Witcher games have been well-optimized, and the
