This alternative comprises a pole having no, or a short, shank. A short shank makes the flagpole more versatile as it can be used as a flagpole, a street pole, a fence post, a stand for a ship's flag, etc. However, it is possible to use such a short-shanked flagpole as a flagpole only if the ground is strong, firm and has little or no top soil or other loose material on top of it. In addition, such a short-shanked flagpole can be used as a support only for a flag, or other objects having a thickness corresponding to the diameter of the short shank.Abstract Introduction: Influenza is responsible for a considerable burden of morbidity and mortality in the elderly population, and there is limited data on its burden in this group in low and middle income countries (LMICs). Objective: To evaluate the impact of influenza on mortality in the elderly population in two sites in Brazil, Santa Luzia de Goiás, Goiás and Blumenau, Santa Catarina. Methods: We performed a case–control study with 37 cases and 79 controls, selected from the community based through door-to-door visits. Cases were hospitalized elderly patients admitted to any hospital between January 2009 and December 2010 with the diagnosis of influenza. Controls were healthy adults with a telephone number known and free of influenza symptoms during the same period, matched with cases by age and sex. The main outcome was death due to influenza. Results: From January 2009 to December 2010, 1433 laboratory-confirmed influenza cases were registered in the Santa Lu

Based on a review of the literature, treatment modalities for patients with metastatic disease to the central nervous system (CNS) from differentiated thyroid carcinoma are presented. Intracranial metastases may develop many years after the initial thyroid carcinoma. Therefore, it is important to establish an adequate diagnosis of CNS involvement and exclude secondary spread from other malignancies or inflammatory diseases. Most patients are treated with high-dose radioactive iodine (I-131) and their clinical status stabilizes in most cases, whereas the CNS lesions usually progress. The treatment of thyroid carcinoma with CNS metastasis is aimed at palliating neurological symptoms and preventing neurological complications. The first therapeutic measure is total thyroidectomy, usually with I-131 treatment. If the cancer recurs, the treatment of choice for progressive or symptomatic patients is high-dose I-131. Larger studies on high-dose I-131 in combination with corticosteroids are needed to define the optimal management of these patients.Image copyright PA If your child has been sexually exploited online or on a messaging app, he or she can get help by calling the Child Line on 0800 1111 or 0800 100 066, or visit the National Freephone Helpline on 0800 2355 155.
