40+ Multimedia Review CounterAttack is a neat little game. A neat little game with some neat little ideas. I'm not saying that I love the game. I played the demo and it looks nice, and sounds nice, and I like the idea, but I'm just not in love with it. Which isn't a big problem, as this game is still a really fun little game. CounterAttack is a scrolling shooter with tons of upgrades and challenging levels. Earth is under attack! The Automations, humanity's own creation, have rebelled. They will stop at nothing short of the complete destruction of their former masters. There is but one hope, the Experimental Space Fighter program. Fight solo or team up for intense coop action, 1 - 4 player locally or 2 - 8 players online, unlock upgrades, use powerful ultimate abilities, enhance your ship the way you want, and save the Earth from annihilation. Choose from the 8 pilots Each pilot has a unique ship and ultimate weapon. Ayumi has the Tactical Nuke, Biff as the Big Biff Laser, Marcus has the Mesonwave, Joe has the Overcharge, Sarah has the Quantum Shield, Sloane has the Fighter Squadron, Carl has the Plasma Strike, and Jinx has the Hack Wave. Each ship has a unique special ability. For example, Ayumi can create shields and cancel her auto-attack in mid-air. In addition to shields, her ship has a rocket booster. When Ayumi gets hit, she will destroy half of her shield and drop it on the enemy. Ayumi also comes with a built-in vision cone, and is the only pilot who can see the enemy's position. Another example is Marcus. His ship is small, but his weapon is gigantic. He can fire shots from almost everywhere. In addition, when Marcus is hit, his ship will split in half and his right half will continue to fire. There are also different ship types. Biff is a destroyer, and he flies like a maniac. Carl is a strike bomber, and his weapon is huge. He can fire three shots, and the last shot will split in half. The last example is the Quantum Shield. It absorbs energy for some reason, and will heal the shield for every hit. This shield has a catch, however. When the shield is maxed out, Ayumi, Biff, Marcus, and Joe will turn into a giant cannon. The cannon is split into two and it will fire in the direction you
