Maya API has this function to calculate basic properties of selected object. GetTypeName() or GetClassName() is supported. Here are examples for both: Maya::RID rid =... //some-selected-RID std::string

name = tfmGetTypeNames(nameIID, tfc, rid); std::string className = tfmGetClassName(nameIID, tfc, rid); However, I want to solve this by using KLIPSE API, or some other API. So I can use std::vector for holding items, and call a function to get name or class name at once. std::vector objList(tfc->next_object_index,tfc->next_object_index); // solving if (objList[0].item_index == 0) { std::string name = "Thing"; } if (objList[0].item_index == 1) { std::string name = "Class"; } if (objList[0].item_
