It's simple, but can't be just plain. Joker Junko Eienno Junka: Judgement of Akane Special Theme for Touhou Project ---- ---- Thank you very much for playing Touhou Project. Welcome to the land of Kannon. This song, "Joker Junko Eienno Junka", is a composed remix of "Arrange from Touhou Kanjyuden". "Joker Junko Eienno Junka" is, like its arrangement, a simple blues and the brightness of the Kannon's smile. There is nothing that is not sweet in the melody. As it was a pop song by beatMARIO, I tried my best to capture its warmth. "Joker Junko Eienno Junka" conveys even a trance-like, dreamy atmosphere. The arrangement is a simple blues that sounds so fresh. Though this song is a simple blues, the melody is cute. After completing the song, I feel the smile on my face will deepen and deepen. ---- ---- This song was made with the Kyokuyo software. The songwriter of "Arrange from Touhou Kanjyuden": ------- We do not have any other arrangement but this; We have been given permission, so... We are sorry to keep this to ourselves, but... Now, to those who have not played Touhou Project until now: Here is a song with which we beg you to come, The only one that could be made while we were working. And the voices of the various people to create this song; ------- Thank you for your time! And to those of you who listened to it, thank you! ----- Enjoy your time dancing and singing at a show! Have fun! ----- Thank you for playing Touhou Project. Welcome to the land of Kannon. ----- ----- Thank you for playing Touhou Project. What's new in Dab On Darkness!:

(dock10.cvs.sourceforge.net): - the 10 bit stacktrace as previously I've requested and gets a few fixes. - we have a basic port working with libsodium on archlinux. 3-0-0 (pretty interesting): - a bunch of stuff regarding boinc (powerforce and pinionforce are now working), - there's a keymap module to associate the window with a specific keyboard with the new libxml, - and there's a default keymap set up by default, so user of the.xorgrc file are no longer necessary to define a keymap setting (A key for landscape/portrait and another for the screen zoom could be configureable, for example in fricos). 30-0 (real eye-candy): We now have the very basics of a render script. It is not the final iteration, so probably not the beta. In this second iteration there's still some things missing: - compositing not working at all in fricos with this code because of libsodium not yet working. - we use a path that seems very slow for Fricos, maybe it's just because I'm working on a offline machine. - I also have no experience in writing a DMA2 controller driver, and it may be quite interresting from my point of view to work on that. I'd probably need some help from one of the contributors. I do not have access to a decent machine. And I heard I had to pay 3000$ to volunteer to develop the kdrive, or unless i have a spare computer for the beta, it seems impossible to switch this to a smaller project. But I might persevere at some point in time. So please don't buy me a nice laptop just for this project or even just to keep my company and help me with it. Quite a lot of work, but I'm doing it just for the purpose of progress and nothing else. Thanks to the beta testers, And of course to frico_devs. Without your precious help, a number of things would have been impossible as I could only learn with your lead. And i do appreciate frico developers. I have an old arcomano and i don't have the courage

Seaside, a streamlined version of the game of Netrunner, is a dice game of crunchy tactics, and quick combo decks. Seizing an opponent's high-value cards, you set up your own killer combos and tear through your enemies. Netrunner is an espionage game about building powerful, covert strategies for stealing influence and disrupting your opponent's plans. But Netrunner has no dice, and Netcaster has no decks. Instead, players use handcards, cards in an enormous shared pool, to gather the cards they need and set up the powerful combos they need. The game is over when a player has run out of cards or is forced to sit on a bad hand. All of the strategy comes from the play of the cards, and choosing the right card is key to winning. Seaside is a streamlined dice game that allows you to keep a smaller group of cards in your deck. You choose what to play each turn from your hand, as well as what to discard. The discard feature lets you keep cards that are too expensive for your deck, and the deck-building feature lets you stock up on cards to play at a later time. All of the cards in Seaside come from popular Netrunner cards, and are randomized. New cards will be added in future DLC, so it's always fresh! Each deck also contains modifiers that change how the cards work. Some turn cards into different-valued versions, let you discard cards for a different amount of cash, and even flip cards to remove from your deck. Are you ready to crush your foes with a delicate combination of strategy and planning? Or, are you a master of precision and deceit who just loves to dominate? If you're up for taking someone else's identity and mental state and your own, you'll love playing Seaside. KEY FEATURES Seaside includes new cards with unique properties as well as new modifiers for existing cards. New cards will be added in future DLC, so it's always fresh! Dice. No decks. No packs. No dice. Just you and your hand. Seaside is a streamlined dice game about building powerful, covert strategies for stealing influence and disrupting your opponent's plans. But Seaside has no decks, and no dice. Instead, players use handcards, cards in an enormous shared pool, to gather the cards they need and set up the powerful combos they need. The game is over

It's going to be a very important year for me. I'm going to be a father. My daughter is going to learn to talk to people her own age. I'll be able to teach her everything I know and more because I'll be able to expand my own brain. I'm going to have to learn how to be independent; I might need to spend more of my time alone so that I can memorize the nursery rhymes and the English alphabet. I'm going to make mistakes, like the very first time I go put her in my husband's arms. Love is a feeling that squeezes the air out of your lungs, leaving you unable to breathe. Sex is an exchange of electricity and hormones that can only be felt. What could possibly unite the two? Nothing, because there are no two things in the world that are more different than love and sex. But yet, just like those things, I'm stuck on this plane. I'm slowly turning into a desperate gargoyle, riding on the crest of a never ending wave of misery, with no broken wings or boots. What is it about love that makes us human? Why is it that we feel this overwhelming urge to want to share it with
