"Seventy percent of the year is made up of the sprints, and the other thirty percent is in front of the goal," says Karl-Johan Andersson, Head of Production at EA Sports. "In FIFA, we are able to record the sprints of our players, and then add sprints from all the other players on the pitch. "The sprints are a very important part of the game, especially in World Cup mode. Our gamers are very skilled at sprinting. We've gone for a more authentic movement model, with an emphasis on how players step, and also the acceleration and deceleration." These movements are recorded in a highly accurate fashion, with an all-new physics engine for more believable ball control, and a newly upgraded AI engine that covers every aspect of the game in an even better way. FIFA 22 gameplay will never look, or feel, the same. Players also gain an advantage over opponents in the more tactical situations by understanding their opponents' preferences in tactics. EA SPORTS Football has spent the last year working closely with leading pundits to simulate how teams play in different games, and the new additions to gameplay features like Tactical Master and Tactical Game Mode will enable more control over the way in which your team play, and take control away from the opposition. In addition, Madden NFL '17 lets you be the quarterback, using a variety of different control schemes - including pick up and dribble passing, passing from the pocket, or throwing on the run - all making up a progression of different play styles. When the play action is working, you can flip to any of the four schemes, which makes giving instructions a snap as well. Grid View Players will be able to dive more aggressively, and use two different controls to lay off the ball to running backs or drop the ball into space for one-on-one opportunities. Madden NFL '17 also introduces a new feature that makes every play of the game accessible. "When it comes to the game's award-winning online features, everyone has their favourite part. So we've made that the backbone of this one as well," Madden NFL '17 Game Director Patrick Burke says. "The Brand Creator is both a fun and valuable tool, giving you the chance to break the game into segments to

FIFA is the game of choice among over 700 million players. With FIFA 22, EA SPORTS rewrote the book on what it means to play FIFA. Under the hood, seven years of new gameplay features have been driven by our new A.I. engine powered by Football. In addition, the game now features 360° coverage in all matches. The Evolution of the A.I. Engine FIFA 20's A.I. engine featured groundbreaking advances. Football, created by years of data driven research, organically discovers the right play by evaluating thousands of different scenarios. Crucially, players now use the freedom of the game to create their own individual style. GO TO LIGHTS You can build a complete game plan before the match. A.I. coaches will watch every key action, and build their tactics around your preferred approach. You'll be able to change plays, substitute, instruct A.I. players and move the ball around as you see fit. EVOLVED DEFENDING An entirely new camera system, with the ability to view your opponent in three dimensions, enables a heightened awareness of all facets of the match. Those in possession see every touch, every goal, and can more accurately choose how to break down an opponent's defence. FIFA 22 Demo Now Available for iOS, Android, and Windows PC Take the lid off EA SPORTS FIFA 22 Demo Available on iOS, Android, and Windows PC on August 24 Available on iOS, Android, and Windows PC on August 24 Player intelligence has been improved and AI now better reads and anticipates your moves, as well as making its own decisions to break the game open, take the ball, and progress the game. The new A.I. Engine delivers two game-changing new features; FIFA A.I. compounding, and football chemistry. Watch this short video featuring some of the key highlights. The Ability to Compound, and Football Chemistry The ability to have more than one player open up at any one time remains, but they now have the ability to compound, meaning they can all pass to each other at the same time. This opens up the game up for even more complex tactical approaches, where you can cut inside to create space, or send players on runs with fullbacks and wingers. A.I.
