STORY It is a long time since the Kingdom of Brightness was oppressed by the forces of darkness, and the newly-arrived Elden Lords united under the banner of red and gold clashed with them. *The Lands Between RPG story is divided into three stages. Each has its own story and ending. NARRATIVE: The current world has been waiting for more than 3,000 years after the King of Brightness's rule was disturbed by the forces of darkness and his subjects were oppressed. After the Kingdom of Brightness was finally destroyed by the forces of darkness, more than 3,000 years later, new lords came to reclaim their legacy. They fought off evil with the power of the Elden Ring and then eventually united to form the Empire of Brightness. The narrative that unfolds in the main story shows how the kingdoms were once united. However, the three countries were eventually divided by internecine warfare and internal strife. This turned a unity of love into enmity. It was only after the deaths of their Lords, which set the story in motion, did the kingdoms begin to reunite. In the end, the myth that was told for generations was proven true and the Kingdom of Brightness was reunited under the banner of red and gold. The history book of the Lands Between is being rewritten. *The game features a main narrative that changes according to your play style, and a new story is told in each of the three stages. The news item will have multiple links to other pages. Currently, I can add the links to the page by doing this: The news item does not have a video of the news item, it has a text report and a link to the video. What you're proposing is one way of doing this. But it is not a very common way. You could have a page which includes the video page, and then open another page (in PHP) that will determine if the news item has already been viewed. Here is a tutorial for how to add a video to a page. If you need to do something similar, you'll find that information on how to do it.
