Special Day Countdown is a Windows desktop app that lets you plan out your entire year of special events in just a few clicks. Create entries for upcoming birthday parties, anniversaries, or any other occasions that occur over the course of the year, giving you an organized view of your entire year, with as little effort as possible. Once you're done planning, it's time to start the countdown, and see if you have everything you need prepared. Create an entry that's easy to recognize using a picture from your Windows photo collection, a picture from your custom background list, or a random photo from your archive, then add a reminder for when the event is coming up. After that, you can save the entry into your personal collection, add it to your group list, send it to other people, and give it a color. Or you can keep it as a wallpaper for the entire year if you want to have it as a constant reminder of your plans.... Read more Open the Program Here you can see your full background list. The background list shows all of your custom backgrounds that you have saved to the program. Here you can add or remove any of the backgrounds or remove all of them at once. 3. Add a Background to Your Custom List, and Select the Category Just as for a regular image, you can add or select any photo that you have saved as a background to your list in this step. And like a regular photo, you can also select a category. Here you can add or remove categories, if you have too many. Don't remove a category that has a piece of your backdrop in it. This will cause a problem when it's time to replace it. This is where you add a background image to your list. Simply select a photo from your archive and select your category, then go to the next step. 4. Select the Background Image The image you selected will show up on your list of choices, and you are free to select a different photo or use it as the default. When you have selected the background image you want to use, you can select a place for it on your list. 5. Select Your Category This is where you will select the category where you want to place your background image. You can choose from a list of categories that the program provides, or you can always save it as a new category. Once you have selected it, you can go to the next step.
