AI Stories is a real time Tetris with AIs. It's a surreal 2D game inspired by Tetris, but also Castles, The Legend of Zelda and Portal. In the tap and go mechanics and the gameplay, it is similar to Tetris. There are multiple bonuses that will be triggered when various conditions are fulfilled, depending on the blocks that are falling. Levels like that you'll only notice them when you play it for a while. The AIs are just that you'll find their messages on the ground, and by listening to them, you'll find out their stories and what's going on with them. It's like they were waiting for you and took the time to tell you their stories. You'll find them in various different sub realities. There's a "Color Change" setting, if you like playing with color, it will change the game's colors to more vibrant and fresh colors. There is no level or score, it's more of an adventure where you're looking for new challenges, messages, and AIs. The preload system is a new feature, instead of saving the game after every 100 actions, the game will save it after 3 actions. The Game Plan: AI Stories is a small, 2D game, made by Emir Akyazi. It is inspired by Tetris, Castles and other games. It's a real time game, where you play as the player and an AI. Tetris mechanics are present, including bonuses and the stacking of blocks. The game has high resolution, detailed graphics, and great music. It has no story, it's all about playing with the real time mechanics and the most interesting visuals. My Website: Android and iOS version coming soon! AI is a small, creative game. It is about exploring multiple realities after dying (with this the "Lightning Strike" feature). The game has challenging levels, great graphics and is probably for more experienced players. The controls are simple and the mechanics are similar to Portal. There's no story yet, but that's soon coming and there will be a lot of new features and new challenges, so don't miss it! The Game Plan: AI is a small, creative game, that is about exploring multiple realities after dying. It has challenging levels,

ENJOY! instruments = 2; IHOP Steakhouse in Appleton is part of a nationwide franchise of classic American breakfast-food restaurants that date back to 1953. The new concept, a much-anticipated and eagerly anticipated addition to the restaurant line-up at the recently re-imagined Westdale Shopping Center, is opening its doors today, Monday, Aug. 18, at 1305 E. Main St. There are three IHOP restaurants in Appleton. The other two are at 1014 W. Main St. and 676 W. Main St. They can be found on the downtown square, close to the Appleton Area Convention and Visitors Bureau (ACVB) and the Appleton Public Museum. Both restaurants are owned and operated by the same franchise owners. The Westdale location is Appleton's second IHOP restaurant. It's part of a multi-unit project developed by Oak Creek-based F.W. Martin Development that brings a new, state-of-the-art IHOP restaurant to downtown Appleton, across from the East Towne Towne Center on Appleton's city square. "Our great cities and towns are the great heritage of this nation, and downtown Appleton is at the heart of Wisconsin and the Fox Valley," said Keith Vanderlaan, President and Chief Executive Officer of IHOP Corporation, the parent of IHOP. "As America's original diner, IHOP is excited to be part of this project and be part of the Westdale community in Appleton." "We're thrilled to add IHOP to our Westdale family," said Michael Wirtz, Executive Vice President of the Appleton Area Convention and Visitors Bureau. "IHOP is an iconic brand, a symbol of American cuisine, and a favorite among IHOP fans." IHOP Steakhouse is part of IHOP Corporation's Fast Casual Concept, an effort to expand the brand and break down the boundaries between the upscale dining experience and quick service dining. In Appleton, IHOP Steakhouse is the seventh FASB Concept restaurant. Downtown Appleton, in particular, is attracting businesses that are more customer-focused, family-friendly, and restaurant-oriented, said Wirtz. "As a result, Appleton
