Yet the country is rich in gold and iron ore. A violent barbarian named Tirintha discovered the long-abandoned country and declared himself ruler. Because the nobility donned purple and gold, people now call the country Tarnished. Tirintha has ordered the Lands Between to be devoid of the noble colors and has ordered the surrounding princes to wear only black, so his own minions have risen. Tirintha had only one intent in mind, defeating all the men of the northern kingdoms who have allied with the Lands Between. The lands are quickly under Tirintha's iron grip. It is a time of hardship for the people of the northern countries, now is the time to act. The five kingdoms of Northern Tarnished would rise up against the tyrannical ruler and join forces. THE PRINCES OF NORTHERN TARNISHED: Tiny tiny Arran Kingdom, the Kingdom of the little ones, the kingdom of the dwarves. The kingdom of Tellurhin, the kingdom of thieves. The kingdom of Tarnish, the kingdom of the mainstays. The kingdom of Bordos, the ruler of the bright blue sun. The kingdom of Valdos, the kingdom of light. THE ADVENTURES OF THE PRINCE OF VALEZIA: The mighty prince of Arran has taken his small kingdom to the Lands Between, where the people have fled from the tyranny of Tirintha. Arran's first objective is to show his loyal subjects that there is no escape from the tyranny of Tirintha, and that the subjugation of the southern provinces is not profitable. On the way, he came across a viking's ship carrying the Ork Sea Dragon Mazu, whose bewitching eyes captivated him. When Mazu asked Arran to take her to Valerios, he refused, but when he saw the cunning and innocent look on Mazu's face, he felt that he couldn't refuse her. Reining in his heart and devoted to the prince, Mazu is going to assist

View topic - The new fantasy action RPG game and its Trial Version seem to be out already! :) Sat, 08 Nov 2010 19:09:52 +0000Tech%20Support FORUM pizza]]>Modern technology has made photography a rather easy task. Between smartphones and apps, there is a giant variety of options for taking images. Some of these have revolutionized the way we take photos, even though most are only available in "point and shoot" form. Smartphones have made photography a lot easier. Camera apps available for the iPhone and Android (if you own either of those phones) allow for camera controls in apps. This is great because then all you need is your friends and a phone. And apps have tons of options for sharing images and printing them out. But I fell back on my strengths, and decided to photograph my friends this week using your regular old camera (although I would recommend a smartphone if you can't bring yourself to lug around your fancy DSLR). I chose my three best friends, Tom, Armon, and Trent, to be the subjects for this week's series. They were great sports about being photographed, and even posed in different ways and various ways of clothing; so even though I couldn't use many of the automated features, I pulled it off. It was a fun experience for me and I hope they'd enjoy you seeing my work on what I call their "friend walls". I'll post them as often as possible as soon as I get a chance to upload them from the phone. I'm gonna go. Oh well, next time I'm going to take the super duper fancy phone :). We all had a great time, and had a lot of fun with this week's
