"Sometimes we are too focused on the problems of asylum seekers and immigrants. There are times when we need to be more nuanced," said Mary Smallwood of the Lutheran Immigration and Refugee Service. "Sometimes we are too focused on the problems of asylum seekers and immigrants. There are times when we need to be more nuanced." So at least they're honest. In the old days they'd just have called them traitors, outlaws, felons and terrorist, but that didn't work as well. "The right response to a question posed by a border agent is not to flee, not to seek asylum in the United States. It is to answer the question," says Mary G. Smallwood. As winter winds through Southern California, the heat is turned up on a border wall designed to keep out the waves of Central American immigrants. President Trump has approved it. He wants the wall. Other than that he doesn't care whether the media supports it or not. "Every pound of wall will save American lives," he Tweeted. "Put It Down! We 6d1f23a050
