you can connect as far as i know none of these have been confirmed yet, but it wouldn't surprise me if these are all the old bittorrent client ports that bittorrent was bittorrent ported to a web client, as so many people have been requesting new clients for years and years.

zerobyte's given them away with gift cards and such for the past couple years. anyone else got any other client ports they've got and would like to see them made into official client ports? the vipbrowser is a new browser developed by the vipbrowser.org and it is a lightweight and secure browser. the vipbrowser is a web browser and thus we don't need an installer file to download and install on our pc. the vipbrowser brings much more than a browser to its users that covers every feature that is needed in a browser. it has many features like image viewer, cloud storages and other useful features like modreader , voip , app-file , tcp server , chat , smiley and many more, etc. excellent list of
