but the film does not have any redeeming value. it has patches of pointless stylishness with the punkish acolyte of sanjay dutt, irrfan khan, playing the character quite well. that helps the film to a certain degree. but as it is only a filmmaker and actors shtick which is used rather often. its disappointing that the film is a bad copy of a western film. the only difference being that the westerns have a veritable army of well-fed villains. this film, in a nutshell, is the essence of every over-earnest film, no matter how likeable. take a look at yourself and you will notice something special here. you will see your features, sitting in a cinema.'s projection booth, watching you watch. tired of being the audience? then go watch acid factory. the film was originally titled master-plan (plan-2) in the same year 2009 as a sequel of plan 2004 ; starring - sanjay dutt, fardeen khan, irrfan khan, sunil shetty, aditya pancholi, aftab shivdasani, dino morea & arjun rampal with bipasha basu & gulshan grover ; music by himesh reshammiya ; produced by sanjay dutt & sanjay gupta white feather films ; directed by suparna verma (same director) then all things changed & it was finally made as acid factory with new cast & crew (changes*)!!!! when a movies most attractive sequence, repeated often, is the breathtaking sea and mountain view near cape town, essentially a tourist visual, it means the director knows his film is not working. the moral of the story is to indianise a foreign tale, to fuse a western concept with a subcontinental sensibility. that doesnt happen in director suparn vermas film. 5ec8ef588b
