Xbox 360 Game Editions - Xbox Live Game Data. This means that if you use a generator like CKAN, you need to ensure that the name of the data set being saved is unique. If an item has two different data sets with the same name, it will not be possible to generate the resources properly. This situation can be avoided by ensuring that only one data set exists in a given CKAN resource group: For example, if I have a CKAN-based resource called 'cron.. I want to have two different sets of data with the same name, as both sets represent different sets of data. So I have a data set named 'default', which is the default that I want to use when the module is initially set up. Also in my local site, I have two CKAN data sets named 'csv' and 'json'.. As I'm using the same names for both the data and the. Only the data set named 'csv' will be used for all the files that I have for that resource group. . The data set is also called the primary data set, and it's in a resource group named, data. If you are in a group of 3 or fewer items, you can ignore the server's role change message. If you are in a group with more than 3 items (because you have more than 3 items in the dashboard), you can ignore the message by manually changing the role of the server. . Save and close the file.. On the Resources tab, add the first data set file.. The Product Data Data Editor icon opens.. The game saves are created by the game, but the data are saved and downloaded by the game data editor. In order to be a successful game, it is best to ensure that both processes happen at the same time. You can do this automatically by using a game save editor. The data from the game saves could be saved as JSON, CSV, XLS and Excel files. For example, the League Manager Data Editor has built-in functionality to import the saved game data from a series of CSV files, XLS files and a single JSON file.
