Background with content I need a gray background for a page with white text on it. Normally, I'd go with this: `html, body { background-color: Gray; }` This works, but adds a huge space at the top of the page, and it distorts the font. I haven't found a way to set the background of the body tag to gray without making the background of the page completely gray as well. Ideally, I'd like to do something along these lines: `html, body { background-color: #000; }` But, unfortunately, that doesn't work. Are there any tricks to get around this? A: You could use a `rgba` and `background-color` to make a white canvas on which you will apply a `background-image`. `body { background-color: rgba(255, 255, 255, 0.5); background-image: linear-gradient(90deg, black, #000); }` jsFiddle A: I'm not sure, but if you use an image as background than you could use a `background-position: left 50%;` to get what you want: `body { background-image: url('background_image.png'); background-position: left 50%; }` jsFiddle Note, that you need to set `background-size: cover;` to your body element. A: If you only
